

Londolozi Varty Camp

Overview

This emphasis on family heritage means that children have always had a place at Londolozi, and this is particularly so at Varty Camp. Londolozi's rich history is preserved and recorded in the original camp built in 1926. Four rondavels, which date back to the original Sparta Hunting Camp, are a special feature. Each have been set dressed to reflect a time gone by, this museum is a tribute to the early Bush veld Pioneers, a well-stocked wine cellar and an library (with Internet access) also have a home at Varty camp but it is Varty Camps main deck offering awe-inspiring views of the Sand River that captures the true essence of Africa.

Room Information

All the chalets and suites have private plunge pools and elevated timber decks that overlook the riverine bush. The focal point of each luxurious bathroom is a magnificent view of the lush green riverine vegetation. The essence of relaxation is to gaze from your bath over uninterrupted views. Characterised by a timeless safari ambience, eight chalets and 2 suites all feature private plunge pools and decks with expansive river views.
