

Singita Lebombo & Sweni Lodge

Overview

Situated at the confluence of two rivers in an exclusive 15 000ha concession on the remote eastern boundary of Kruger National Park, Singita Lebombo offers an unrivalled wilderness experience. Named after the Lebombo Mountains that rise before it, Singita Lebombo boasts spectacular scenery teeming with the highest concentration of wildlife in the entire park. Elevated on a sheer clifftop, Lebombo Lodge offers 15 luxurious, fully air conditioned loft-style suites with sweeping views of the Nwanetsi River. A spectacular cliffside pool complements this breathtaking setting. The lofts are constructed almost entirely of wood and glass for optimal views and flaunt light, contemporary interiors, using layers of natural, neutral tones and rich organic textures. The more intimate Sweni Lodge has six exclusive suites on the banks of the Sweni River. While similar in architecture and design to Lebombo Lodge, the Sweni suites are more intimate in dappled shade on the water's edge. The use of African artifacts, leather and khaki lend a more classic safari feel to Sweni Lodge. Each luxury suite offers absolute exclusivity and privacy with a wooden game viewing deck complete with an outside bed and shower. Gym and health spa facilities and the opportunity to buy fine African artifacts and premium wines are available between game drives.
